PREFACE

The publication of a list of periodicals in the University of Illinois library was recommended by the Senate Library committee, January 6, 1909. The work of compiling such a list was begun in the spring of 1909 by Miss Anne D. Swezey, then binding librarian, and was continued during that summer by Miss Margaret Hutchins, reference assistant.

Early in the work, the scope was broadened to include not only periodicals in the ordinary sense of that term, but also other serial publications, such as annual and biennial reports, proceedings, transactions, etc., of societies, institutions, and governmental bodies. In general scope and arrangement, therefore, it is evident that the present list follows closely the lines so successfully laid down by the Boston, Chicago, and Philadelphia union lists of serials.

The preliminary list was ready for final revision in December 1909. It has been the task of Mr Drury, the assistant librarian, to read the entire official shelf list of the University library in order to verify all the information relating to the entries, to add the titles of the many recent acquisitions, and to read the printers' proofs. In many cases the volumes themselves were consulted to verify items of information.

The field covered by the serials listed in the University library includes newspapers, magazines, periodicals, and annuals; and the serial publications of societies, corporations, institutions, and governmental bodies. Entry is made if only one volume is in the library, and in some instances, notably the labor journals, a periodical is entered even if that one volume is incomplete. In general, only cataloged material is included. The list has been revised and corrected to January 1911, but the titles of a number of important sets ordered in March and April of this year have been included, though the sets themselves had not been delivered.

The titles which might be expected in this list but which have been omitted are chiefly the following: catalogs and administrative reports of colleges and universities, except those of Illinois and foreign institutions, which are included; and the reports of secondary schools, a large collection of which has been gathered by the School of Education. The libraries other than the University library, have, in general, restricted their entries to periodicals and have not as a rule included reports, bulletins, etc., which they may possess.

The following table shows approximately the number of titles supplied by each library:

University of Illinois library.....	7,000
State Laboratory of Natural History library.....	1,000
State Geological Survey library.....	200
State Water Survey library.....	50
Champaign public library.....	65
Urbana public library.....	25

PREFACE

As usual in a list of such material in a growing library, it is out of date when issued. It may be desirable to issue a revised list after a few years, and the Library will therefore be grateful to professors in the University of Illinois, for whose convenience chiefly the work has been printed, and to others, for corrections or suggestions looking to the improvement of the list. One of the chief values of printing such a list lies in the stimulus it will give each department in the University to fill in the gaps in the sets here recorded as incomplete. It is expected that with this list as a basis many missing numbers and volumes will be purchased.

The 7,000 titles in the University library may be roughly classified as follows:

Bibliography and library economy.....	550
General periodicals and newspapers.....	230

DESCRIPTIVE LIST OF LIBRARIES

The General Library is housed, for the most part, in the Library building, and is for the use of the whole University. The corps of instruction and administrative officers of the University, the graduate students, and the members of the senior class have direct access to the shelves; other students may have this privilege upon the recommendation of their instructors.

Practical use of the books has separated several collections from the Library Building. Fifteen departments now have books more or less permanently in their care.

The library is especially strong in its serials (having 7,000 titles in its list), notably in agriculture and horticulture, political economy, education, railroad administration, science, engineering, and general periodicals.

Well-developed collections of books are to be found here in economic theory and history; in transportation, commerce, finance, insurance, and labor; in political science; in architecture; and in agriculture.

In 1905 the Dziatzko collection of Library Economy, was purchased, 550 items; in 1907 the Dittenberger collection of the Classics, 5,600 items; in 1909 the Heyne collection of German philology and literature, 5,000 items.

The library has received by gifts the libraries of two of its deceased professors: The Palmer library of chemistry; and the Karsten library of French and German philology and literature.

The Library is primarily for free reference use. The privilege of drawing books is accorded to all officers of instruction and government, to all registered students, and to other accredited persons.

Librarian: Phineas Lawrence Windsor.

Assistant librarian: F. K. W. Drury.

The library consists chiefly of reports of Health boards and similar publications of interest to the Survey and journals received in exchange for its Bulletin. The Illinois Water Supply Association subscribes to various serials and deposits them in this library.

The privileges of the library are extended to all members of the University of Illinois faculty, and to such students as are recommended by the instructors.

Director of the Survey: Edward Bartow.

EXPLANATIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS

A Serial is a publication issued in successive parts, usually at regular intervals, and, as a rule, intended to be continued indefinitely. Serials include periodicals, newspapers, annuals (reports, year-books, etc.) and memoirs, proceedings, and transactions of societies.

Entries in this serial list are made in accordance with the A. L. A. Catalog rules, 1908.

The transactions, proceedings, journals, memoirs, etc., of a society are entered under the first word, not an article, of its corporate name or of the latest form of its name. Exceptions: Societies distinctively local are entered under the name of the city.

A serial published by a society but having an individual title, is entered under the title, with reference from the name of the society.

A serial not published by a society or a public office is entered under the first word of the title, not an article, of the latest form of the title.

Learned academies of Europe with adjectives at the beginning expressing royal privilege are entered under the first word following such adjective. The words Kaiserlich, Reale, Imperiale, etc., are abbreviated to K., R., I., and are disregarded in the arrangement. The words Royal, Imperial, etc. in English societies are not abbreviated nor disregarded.

Countries, states, cities, towns, etc., are considered as the authors of their official publications and these are entered under the name of the country, state or city, with the names of the departments, bureaus, etc. from which the publications emanate as subheadings.

Administrative annual reports contained in any set of collected city, state, or government documents are not as a rule listed separately.

Institutions (establishments) are entered under the name of the place in which located; except that

1. American and British institutions, whose names are distinctive, are entered under the first word of the name.

2. College or university institutions as libraries, museums, colleges, are entered under the name of the college or university.

3. National institutions, which incorporate the name of the country in their own name, are entered under the name of the country.

4. American state institutions (universities, libraries, asylums) are entered under the name of the state.

5. Agricultural Experiment Stations in United States are entered under the name of the state or territory in which they are organized.

6. Colleges and universities having a geographical designation are entered under the city, state or country contained in title.

Catalogs and reports of United States colleges and universities are omitted from this list, except for those situated in Illinois. The Library, however, has a very extensive collection of these covering nearly every institution and comprising both past and present years.

Observatories, botanical and zoological gardens, are entered under the name of the place in which situated, unless they form a part of a university, in which case they are entered under the name of that institution.

Reference is made from earlier forms of a title to the latest form; from the name of a place to societies having their meetings there; in some cases from the name of the editor to the title of a serial; and in general whenever a reference seems necessary.

Capital letters prefixed to the years and volumes indicate the libraries in which the serial can be found, as given in the "Descriptive list of libraries."

EXPLANATION AND ABBREVIATIONS

A dash between volume numbers and dates signifies "from and including the former to and including the latter."

Dates or volume numbers in brackets signify that the set is incomplete for the period so included.

A plus sign (+) indicates that the set is complete from the last date and volume number given, and includes the current numbers.

0 / If no number precedes the plus sign, it indicates that the serial is received currently but the file has not been bound.

U. The parallels sign ([|]) indicates that publication ceased with the preceding date or volume.

Abbreviations:

v. Volume, band, tome, etc.

pt. Part, heft, lieferung, fascicule, etc.

no. Number, number, numéro, etc.

ser. Series, folge, série, etc.

n.s. ~~new ser.~~ New series, neue folge, nouvelle série, etc.
